

Who's the BEST MAYOR to strengthen our struggling SCHOOLS?

(The Mayor with the plan)

ENDORSED BY SAN FRANCISCO TEACHERS

LELAND YEE

A PLAN TO STRENGTHEN OUR STRUGGLING SCHOOLS.

Endorsed by San Francisco Teachers

Over 40% of families with children under 5 say they are considering leaving San Francisco. The number one reason: school quality. It's time we had a Mayor with a plan for our schools.

A San Francisco public school graduate

Leland Yee's experience with our public schools began at the age of 5 at Commodore Stockton near Chinatown. He graduated from Mission High, attended public universities, and then put his four children through San Francisco public schools as well.

A 23-year record of improving education

A child psychologist and former teacher, Leland served eight years on San Francisco's School Board. His long track record includes fighting for smaller class sizes, protecting kids from sex predators, and raising school nutrition standards.

Fighting fee hikes at our public universities

In the state legislature, Leland has been at the forefront in the battle to curb excessive executive pay and limit outrageous fee hikes at our community colleges, state universities and the University of California. Leland voted against all cuts to public education in the recent state budget.

A comprehensive plan for strengthening neighborhood schools

Yee's schools plan will establish community schools in every neighborhood, encourage greater parent participation, fight truancy, promote college as a goal for every student, restore free Muni for low-income students, and provide affordable housing for teachers.

"Leland Yee has been a child psychologist, a teacher in the classroom, and will always be an educator in his heart. He's one of our schools. —School Board Member Kim-Shree Maufas

"Yee's plan for schools demonstrates his commitment to education. San Francisco Teachers trust Leland to prioritize our kids and schools. We are proud to support Leland Yee for Mayor."

—Dennis Kelly, President, United Educators of San Francisco

Read the entire plan at www.LelandYee.com