The San Francisco Women's Political Committee (SFWPC) is the largest political organization in San Francisco that seeks to encourage the election of local candidates and the approval of measures that have demonstrated support for our core issues: appoint and elect women to political office and position of political leadership; a political process that is transparent, accessible, and responsive to better serve the interests of women; safe, livable and green communities; livable wages and pay equity for equal work; accessible quality public services, including education, health care, senior services, and child care; reproductive freedom; elimination of violence against women; and eradication of all forms of discrimination against women and girls.
